Subject: RE: State of Texas v Google - Deposition Notices

Caution:External Email

Counsel,

See below our responses to your questions regarding Mr. Mohan's deposition noticed in this case:

- (1) Plaintiffs' position regarding the implications of the Coordination Order in the MDL case for their deposition notice of Mr. Mohan.

We have reviewed the MDL Coordination Order, and it states that: "Any witness appearing at a Google deposition or a Non-Party Deposition taken during the Coordinated Discovery Period cannot be compelled to sit for a second deposition in any Coordinated Case ... absent good cause shown to the Court in the Coordinated Case for which the subsequent deposition of the witness is noticed." MDL Dkt. 564 at 9. Our case in the Eastern District of Texas is not a "Coordinated Case," defined in the MDL Order as "the MDL or the Virginia Case." And, as you know, no coordination order is in effect in our Texas case. Thus, the MDL Coordination Order does not bar or limit a second deposition of any witness, including Mr. Mohan, in our Texas case because our case is not a "Coordinated Case." The express language of the MDL Coordination Order resolves this issue. As to the timing issues we discussed, the Second Circuit denied Google's mandamus petition on October 4, 2023, before Mr. Mohan's deposition later in October and following which the States' case returned to the Eastern District of Texas.

- (2) Plaintiffs' position as to why they believe they have good cause to re-depose Mr. Mohan.

As shown above, the States do not need to show good cause because this case is not a Coordinated Case subject to the good cause requirement in the MDL Coordination Order. In any event, the States received Google productions containing relevant documents associated with Mr. Mohan after his deposition in October 2023 that would be good cause for his deposition in this case, even if this case were subject to the coordination order.

Dear Geraldine,

Following up on our meet and confer earlier today, we understand that Plaintiffs will get back to us on the following issues:

(1) Plaintiffs' position regarding the implications of the Coordination Order in the MDL case for their deposition notice of Mr. Mohan.

(2) Plaintiffs' position as to why they believe they have good cause to re-depose Mr. Mohan.

We understand that you will aim to provide us answers to the questions early next week and are available for another meet and confer once you have responded. In the meantime, if you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out.

Best regards,
Kenina
